Students Represent Our School and Our Community

Foreword . . .

We, the staff of your yearbook, have tried in this volume to give you a lasting record of this school year. We have also attempted to portray the close correlation which exists between "our school and our community" and to exhibit this bond to all, "that they may see and wonder."

We would like to express our appreciation and gratitude to our sponsor, Mrs. Mildred K. Shoop, for her part in making the 1951 Lock a success. We also extend our thanks to Don Alden, James Stephenson of the Harrington Studio, the Pontiac Engraving and Electrotpe Company, the S. K. Smith Cover Company, and The Ogren Press.

Top: Anxiously awaiting the turkey brigade at the Annual Football Banquet served at the First Congregational Church are: Joseph Fitzgerald Sr., Joseph Fitzgerald, Dean Edward Flink, Joseph Bolattino, Carl E. Munson, John D. Lynch, and the Reverend Frank Rausch. A familiar sight to Lockport visitors and citizens is the Texas Company where many of our graduates are employed.

few members of her Sunday School Class of preschoolers.

Bottom: The three principal officers of Bethel 77, Lockport, are: Joan Majetich, senior princess; Lorena Hosbach, honored queen; and Marie Nelson, junior princess. The City Hall, seat of Lockport's government and protection, is located in the center of the business district.

PRESIDENT MARION M. DE SANDRE

Dedication

REALIZING the vital need for bus transportation for high school students in our community inspired Mr. Marion M. De Sandre, sixteen years ago, to run for election to the Lockport Township High School Board of Education. In 1949 he succeeded the late Edward F. Worst as president. Since the time of his initial election, he has kept the welfare of the students and the community uppermost in mind while endeavoring to improve our high school.

Having been born and raised in the vicinity of Lockport, President De Sandre is well-acquainted with our community. He is at present residing in Chaney with his wife, Jennie, and one daughter, JoAnn, who has been an active student throughout her three years of high school. He attended Fairmont, Lockport Grade School, and Joliet Township High School. A correspondence course enabled him to obtain the equivalent of a Mechanical Engineer's degree.

As executive vice-president of the Joliet Wrought Washer Company, Mr. De Sandre is kept occupied during the day with the many details and decisions required by his job. When his work is finally completed, he finds relaxation out-of-doors. Whether it be working, hunting, fishing, or just walking, fresh air and sunshine please him most.

For the past five years Mr. De Sandre has served on the park board and has recently completed a term as president. Previous to his election to the high school board, he was secretary of the Chaney Grade School Board. His participation in various clubs and organizations, such as the Lockport Moose, Club 66, Chaney Progressive Club, and the Industrial Club of the Y. M. C. A., has increased his popularity as a civic-minded individual.

Numerous improvements to our school have been made since our president became a member of the board. He and Mr. Worst combined their ambitions in developing our fine industrial arts program. Needless to say, Mr. De Sandre has spent many hours in preparation for the school annex which is at last under construction.

President De Sandre's efforts and prudence have proven his interest and ability in helping make our school an institution of which our community may look upon with pride. To him we proudly dedicate this, the 1951 edition of the Lock.

The People

A strong relationship exists between the people of our school and those within our community. They find that in such a relationship and through cooperation and interdependence, the life and activities of both take on smoothness and new meaning. Symbolic of this close relationship is the printing of our yearbook by the local printer, an L. T. H. S. alumnus. Assisting him in his work are other L. T. H. S. alumni and students.

Another outstanding example of cooperation between "our school and our community" occurred when L. T. H. S. seniors, under the direction of Dean Edward Flink, sponsored a paint-up, clean-up day at Dellwood Park.

Cooperation between our school and its constituents is not confined wholly to the school term. Arrangements were made between our school and the State Employment Service in Joliet to secure jobs for graduates and vacation jobs for underclassmen who desire them.

OUR SCHOOL and OUR COMMUNITY . . .

OUR SUPERINTENDENT'S SON

In Memoriam . . .

On April 14 "our school and our community" were saddened by news of the death of Lt. James M. Smith, U. S. N., son of our superintendent and Mrs. James M. Smith, who died in a plane crash in Corpus Christi, Texas.

Jimmy is fondly remembered by the faculty members who were here in 1937 when he entered L. T. H. S. as a freshman. He was very active in the life of the school, serving on the staff of the Lock and the Times, participating in the junior play and in athletics, playing in the band, and lending a helping hand wherever possible. He succeeded admirably, winning both the scholarship and the science awards upon his graduation from high school in 1941.

After attending Harvard University for a year, Jimmy received an appointment to the Naval Academy at Annapolis where he continued his education for the following three years. On the day following his graduation in 1945, he was married to Miss Kay Ribal of Oak Park, Illinois.

From June 1945 until December 1949 Jimmy served in the Far East. In January 1950 he was sent to Pensacola and completed his carrier landings in December. From there he went to advanced flight training at Corpus Christi where he met his death.

We wish to express our deepest and most sincere sympathy to the family who has sustained such a tremendous loss.

LT. JAMES M. SMITH, U. S. N.
1925-1951

Our Superintendent

A Respected Leader . . .

SUPERINTENDENT JAMES M. SMITH, B.A., M.A.

Throughout his long associations with school and civic affairs, Superintendent James M. Smith has proven himself a friend to student and citizen alike. His sterling qualities of character and leadership in the fields of education and service have won him recognition from groups outside as well as within "our school and our community."

We students regard Mr. Smith highly, both as an administrator and as a friend. In his role as student-adviser, he provides guidance for students in planning courses which will be of the most benefit to them in later life. This is evidenced in his high aim and ambition to be of the greatest service to the greatest number of people.

Our Dean

Builder of Better Citizens . . .

DEAN EDWARD FLINK, B.A., M.A.

As the newly-appointed dean of the school, Edward Flink performed his various duties with great capability and foresight and proved to be an efficient counselor of students.

Having been athletic director for the previous fourteen years, Mr. Flink, as dean, continued to coach varsity baseball, assist with fresh-soph football, instruct lifesaving, and teach civics and economics.

Dean Flink helped organize such community projects as the "learn-to-swim" campaign for grade school students and the Dellwood Park Clean-up Program. He is instrumental in helping the L. T. H. S. students become useful citizens of our community.

Our Board of Education

Servers of "Our School and Our Community" . . .

Under the direction of President Marion M. De Sandre, the Board of Education has been very active in the supervision of school affairs and activities during the past year. Composed of its president, Superintendent James M. Smith, Dr. Robert J. Rock, Joseph Bolattino, Dr. Emil J. Viskocil, Carl E. Munson, and John D. Lynch, the board witnessed the beginning of the building program of the new addition. These citizens, some of them alumni of L. T. H. S., serve their community well through their associations with the education of the youth.

We are proud of our Board of Education and the splendid work it does in blending our school with our community to benefit both.

BOARD OF EDUCATION: Superintendent James M. Smith, Dr. Robert J. Rock, Carl E. Munson, President Marion M. De Sandre, Dr. Emil J. Viskocil, Joseph Bolattino, and Secretary John D. Lynch.

Our Faculty

Teachers Help Bridge Gap between School and Community . . .

Unusually high educational requirements for our twenty-nine faculty members helped us to derive the maximum benefit from our high school courses this year. The teachers assisted us with our personal problems as well as our studies. Their participation and interest in extra-curricular activities at school and within the community helped provide the very necessary bridge between "our school and our community."

During the past year it was proven that the members of our faculty were not impervious to the darts of Dan Cupid. Our very best wishes go to our sponsor, Mrs. Mildred K. Shoop; Mrs. Marilyn R. Schumacher, Miss Marilyn L. Klassy, David B. Easson, and Edward G. Hill. Also included are the school secretaries, Mrs. Marjorie F. Munro and Mrs. Jane E. McClintock.

Seniors

School's Loss Is Community's Gain . .

One hundred twenty-two of us will soon have entered and left the hallowed halls of L. T. H. S. for the last time in our capacity as students.

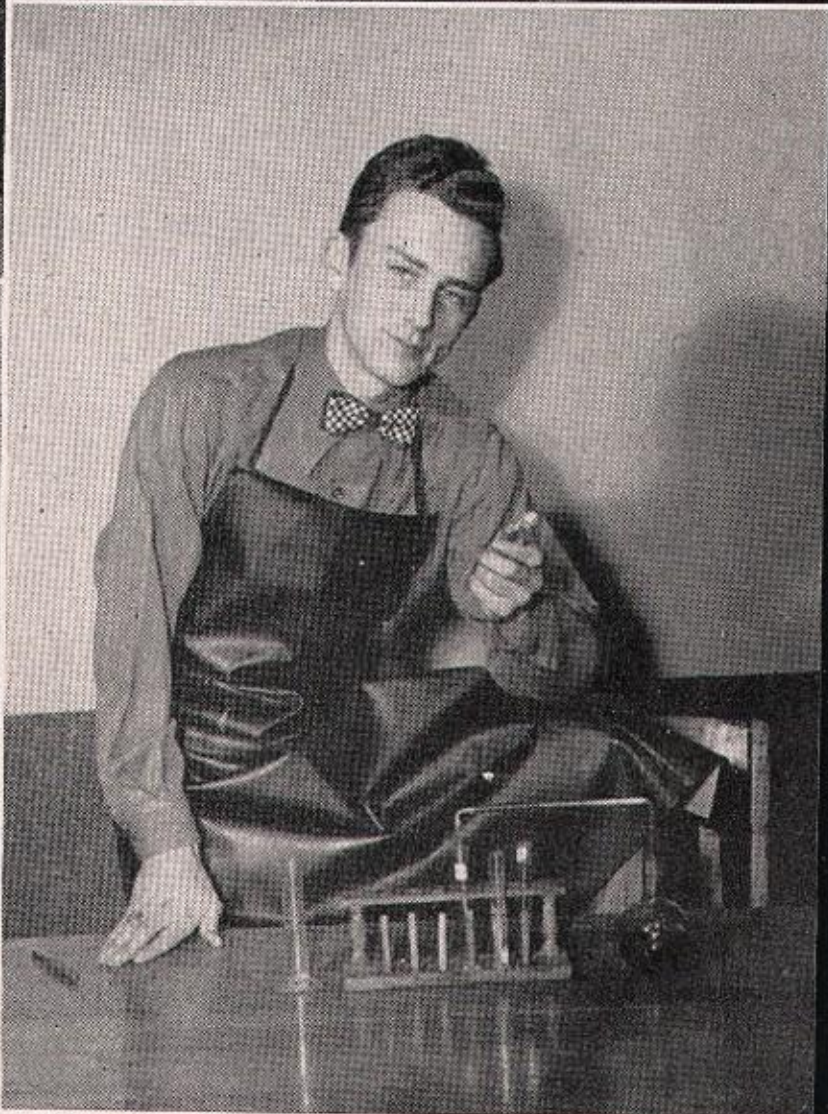

During our final year, the following leaders (stars) were chosen to head various school organizations: John Pretto—Times co-editor, Student Council and band presidents, Outdoor Noon Hour chairman; Betty Carroll—Athletic Board of Control, G. A. A. president; Beverley Hill—Times co-editor; Patricia Randich—Junior Red Cross president; Joseph Fitzgerald—Athletic Board of Control, Quarterback Club president; Lorena Hosbach—Lock editor, chorus president; Joyce Ludwig—senior class president, cheerleader captain.

We, the Class of 1951, whose officers are Joyce Ludwig, president; Rita Fracaro, vice-president; Marilyn Johnson, secretary; and Robert Swindells, treasurer; leave the portals of our Alma Mater with heavy hearts filled with coveted memories of our high school life—our first day as freshmen, our participation in operettas and class plays, music and athletic activities, selections of class rings and invitations, proms and class picnics, organization of the first Dellwood Park Clean-up Day, etc. All of these activities have played a part in making our high school days happy and memorable. In our future lives, we are determined to do our part toward bettering the community in which we live.

Juniors

Upperclassmen at Last . . .

After attaining the heights of upperclassmen in September, the juniors enthusiastically began the activities which were associated with their phase of school life.

They were kept very busy this year with the plans for their junior-senior prom. Equally enthusiastic were they in the selecting of their class rings.

"He Couldn't Marry Five," the junior class comedy, provided many laughs for the onlookers. The money from this play and from the class dues aided in paying their expenses for the year.

Another major activity was the picnic at St. Charles at which the juniors were guests of the seniors.

Their president, Richard Henke; vice-president, Dale Carlstrom; secretary, Donna Mowery; and treasurer, Jo Ann Williamson; helped them in obtaining the experience that will aid them in carrying the responsibilities of their graduating class.

Eager Sophomores Seek the Halfway Mark . . .

Green no longer and eager to reach the halfway mark, the sophomores returned in September anticipating the coming year. The girls looked forward to the many phases of the G. A. A. while football, basketball, baseball, etc. held a great interest for the boys. Band and chorus were activities in which they also participated.

Their officers, Raymond Mondrella, president; Roger Allen, Vice-president; Charlene Jensen, secretary; and Richard Gliwa, treasurer; and the sophomore class are looking forward to the next year as upperclassmen.

Freshmen

Something New Has Been Added . . .

Last September one hundred ninety-four freshmen entered the halls of Lockport Township High School baffled and bewildered. As novices in the G. A. A. the girls were brought into the swing of things. With the help of the various sports, the boys became accustomed to their new environment.

They elected Frank Ogren, president; James Greenan, vice-president; Ronald Johnson, secretary; and Barbara Blish, treasurer.

In a very short time the rest of the school noticed that they were no longer "wet behind the ears" and accepted the beginners as one of them.

Activities

Interdependence between "our school and our community" extends even to our extra-curricular activities. The band, for example, is always willing to cooperate with local organizations in projects of interest and value to the community. Last summer the band, sponsored by the Lockport Lions Club, represented the latter in the parade at the Lions International Convention in Chicago. During the coming summer the band is planning to take part in another Lions International Convention—this time in Atlantic City, New Jersey. The Band Boosters Club and the 1940 Band Alumni are helping raise the funds.

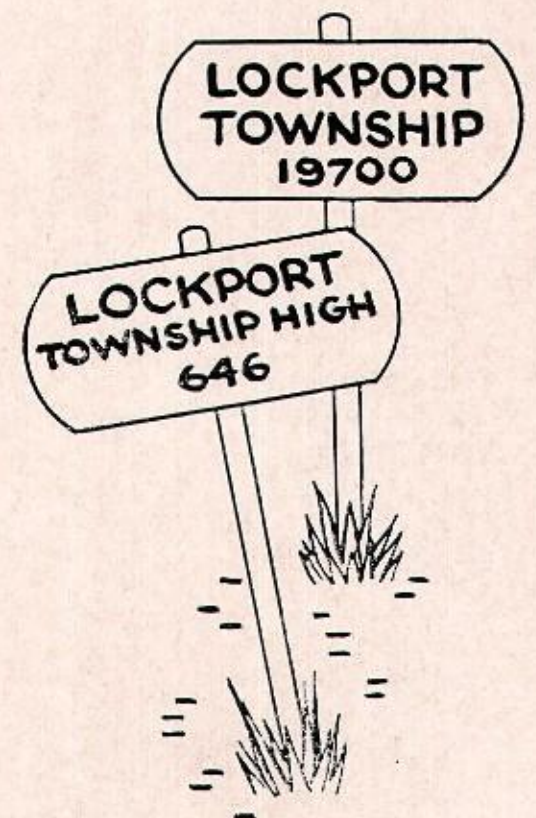

One of the big activities of the year was the annual "Open House," sponsored by the Student Council, which gave the people of the community a chance to observe the machinations of high school life at first hand.

The strong tie between the school and the churches of our community was demonstrated by the cooking and serving of the football and band banquets by the women of the First Congregational Church.

Class plays gave the students outlets for their talents and provided entertainment for the community.

Our activities help prepare us for life in our community. Students of today are the citizens of tomorrow.

The Band

Striving for Greater Fame . . .

Ernest O. Caneva, band director, admires one of the many band trophies encased in the trophy room.

"On to Atlantic City!" This cry echoed throughout the community as Lockport's championship band strived to augment funds above and beyond its quota in order to participate in the International Lions Club Parade. With the able support of the Band Boosters Club and the Alumni of the 1940 Band, the group rapidly reached its goal. Various means of raising money were used including card parties, bakery sales, raffles, dances, concerts, and a Tag Day. Considerable support was given by donations from public-spirited organizations.

Under the direction of Ernest O. Caneva, the band marched in various civic parades in Lockport and Joliet, performed at basketball and football games, as well as participated in programs in surrounding communities. One of the highlights of the year was the Lions Club Parade in Chicago in which the band demonstrated its marching ability.

In June the band won first place at the Harvard Milk Festival. The band returned to the State Fair in Springfield to again capture Class B honors. Superior marching and playing were the basis of winning the first-place trophy at the Riverview Mardi Gras. Participation in the St. Anne Centennial and the Wheaton, Illinois Music Festival rounded out a very eventful summer.

The band and its officers—President John Pretto, Vice-president Beverly Harvey, Librarian Beverley Hill, Junior Representative Joyce Skeldon, Sophomore Representative Joseph Ratkovich, Freshman Representative Donald Caneva, and Manager John Leedom—are anxiously awaiting the day when the band leaves for the "big trip."

In behalf of our community's Loyal Order of Moose, Secretary Clarence Miller presents to band representatives, Nancy Ogren and Leo Krause, a $500 donation to the "On to Atlantic City" drive.

Orchestra

From "Red Hot" to "Blues" . . .

The versatility of the L.T.H.S. orchestra was expressed by their playing everything from "Tzena Tzena" to "Goodnight Irene."

Under the baton of Director Ernest O. Caneva, the musicians provided excellent entertainment for audiences at the junior and senior plays.

Outstanding members of the band were chosen to constitute this fine group of musicians. Although many hours were spent in preparation for their appearances, they feel that they were hours well spent.

Band Banquet

Banquet Combines Business with Pleasure . . .

Launching the drive for the band's trip to Atlantic City was the primary aim of the Fourth Annual Banquet held at the First Congregational Church on February 22.

Getting the affair off to a "flying" start, Toastmaster Forrest McAllister convinced each band member and parent that his part in preparing for the trip was as important as the duty of each member of a plane crew. To show the interest and concern of the city and industries, various representatives assured the band of their loyal support.

Committees worked hard to make this banquet a memorable one. Under the direction of Joyce Skeldon, letters were sent to guests. Her committee also was responsible for the decorating of the speakers' table. Place cards, carrying out the theme, represented cars of a passenger train, and were made by a committee in charge of Beverley Hill. Other committee chairmen included: construction, John Pretto; table setting, Beverly Harvey; and tickets, Leroy McCarthy.

To close the evening, movies were shown of the International Lions Club Parade of 1950, in which the band participated last summer. This highlight inspired both the band members and their parents to put forth their wholehearted efforts to attain their ultimate goal.

Junior Play

"He Couldn't Marry Five" . . .

The junior class, under the direction of Miss Eleanor A. Urban, presented on the evenings of November 16 and 17, the love-crazy comedy, "He Couldn't Marry Five."

Donald Regan, the handsome son of Mr. Barton's boss, came to the Barton home for a much-needed rest; but the quotation, "there is no rest when one is in love," proved a reality in that Donald fell in love with the Bartons' five daughters. Would the lucky girl be April, the actress; May, the dancer; June, the artist; Taris, the nurse; or Leona, the tomboy? Following a series of side-tickling events, leading anywhere from the cat that wasn't there to the ranch out west, Donald finally chose Taris as his bride-to-be.

The cast was as follows: The Barton family—"Connie," Marlene De Toffol; "Ralph," Wayne Adams; "April," Adele Carlson; "May," Mary Blake; "June," Rosemary Panich; "Taris," Joyce Wheatley; "Leona," Patsy Carlock; "Granny," Kathleen Toohey; "Etta," Grace Boehme—and also "Donald Regan," Winn McCray.

Top: To protect her nieces, Etta (G. Boehme) is attempting to frighten away Donald (W. McCray).

Middle: Donald (W. McCray) is explaining to Father Barton (W. Adams) and his five daughters—Leona (P. Carlock), Taris (J. Wheatley), April (A. Carlson), June (R. Panich), and May (M. Blake)—that he can't marry five. Leona (P. Carlock) frightens Etta (G. Boehme), Donald (W. McCray), Father (W. Adams), Mother (M. DeToffol), and Granny (K. Toohey).

Bottom: Leona (P. Carlock) and Father (W. Adams) take an interest in June's (R. Panich) artistic talent while May (M. Blake) displays her dancing abilities to April (A. Carlson), Taris (J. Wheatley), and Mother (M. DeToffol).

Senior Play

"American Passport" . .

Boarding the ship of state with "strictly an American passport," the senior Thespians, under the direction of Miss Eleanor A. Urban, on the evenings of May 15 and 16 presented their play, "American Passport."

When Edward Hamilton, an industrious and respectable father, was confronted by Aunt Jen's suggestion that he might not be a good citizen, he was astonished and came back with hackneyed excuses so often heard: "Wasn't he a taxpayer? Didn't he send his children to the schools and university? Didn't he contribute to the Community Chest—and the Red Cross?"

When Dad suddenly awoke to the fact that the conversations he had been listening to from his own children, Dick and Judy, were anti-democratic, he decided something had to be done about the situation. He began to study Americanism and to put its practices to work in his own home. He laid down the law so soundly and so loudly that, to his chagrin, he discovered his lawn was full of cheering persons, who hailed him as their choice for congressman.

The cast was as follows: "Ed Hamilton," William Richards; "Louella," Betty Carroll; "Judy," Maureen Caneva; "Dick," John Pretto; "Sybil Jennings," Lorena Hosbach; "Bertha Hamilton," Marguerite Timm; "Bill Wilson," Jack Coon; "Aunt Jen," Beverley Hill; "Mrs. Schwartz," Virginia Viskocil; and "Mr. Craig," Ralph Benck. The extras included: radio announcer, Frances Ott; news commentator, John Leedom; "Junior," Joyce Ludwig; and crowd—Marilyn Johnson, Oma Leinen, Lucille Vescovi, Hope Israelson, and Dorothy Weiler.

Top: Contributors toward the success of their class play are: (Sitting) L. Vescovi, J. Leedom, F. Cerven, B. Sowers, G. Larsen, M. Johnson, (Standing) F. Ott, H. Israelson, O. Leinen, and D. Weiler.

Middle: Mr. Craig (R. Benck) congratulates Dick (J. Pretto) while Mother (M. Timm), Father (W. Richards), Sybil (L. Hosbach), Judy (M. Caneva), and Bill (J. Coon) watch and listen with interest and pride. Mother Hamilton (M. Timm) and Louella (B. Carroll) listen to Dick (J. Pretto) and Judy (M. Caneva) plague Father Hamilton (W. Richards) with six-bit words related to their cause.

Bottom: While Louella (B. Carroll) and Aunt Jen (B. Hill) impatiently listen, Father (W. Richards) and Mrs. Schwartz (V. Viskocil) argue about their constitutional rights.

Student Council

By the Students--for the Students! . . .

The students should have a voice in school government. For this reason, Lockport Township High School has been successfully operating a Student Council—by the students, for the students—during the past five years. Composed of home room representatives and school leaders, the group aided the teachers in keeping our school a well-organized institution.

This year's president, John Pretto, was chosen at an all-school election last spring after a group of contestants gave speeches concerning the proposed annex to the school. The remaining officers—Dale Carlstrom, vice-president; Beverley Hill, secretary; and Raymond Mondrella, treasurer—were elected at the first council meeting in September.

On the first day of school a book stand was operated by the council. Students were able to buy and sell books with less confusion through the methods which were employed.

It was the duty of the president to preside during the many assemblies sponsored by the group. Our assemblies varied from the exciting story of Robert Zimmerman, who told us the thrill of deep sea diving, to the adventures of Donald J. Crawford, who took us around the world in his sailing vessel, the "Yankee." The council also sponsored the pep meetings and Open House.

L.T.H.S. was skillfully lead through another year by its efficient Student Council sponsored by Daymond J. Aiken.

Seated: President J. Pretto, R. Panich, L. Hosbach, W. Richards, Secretary B. Hill, Vice-president D. Carlstrom, Treasurer R. Mondrella, P. Randich, V. Viskocil.

Open House

People of Our Community Visit Our School . . .

On November 9, Lockport Township High School observed its annual Open House. Nearly 1,000 interested people were shown the various departments of our school by Student Council members.

Exhibits and demonstrations included typing, shop activities, chemistry, art, swimming, junior play practice, basketball practice, and a band concert.

An additional attraction this year was the exhibit in the trophy room. On display were all the Locks which our school has edited and the awards won, as well as the trophies won by our band and our athletic teams. Students listened with interest as the alumni "remembered when," thinking that in a few years it would be their turn to reminisce over high school days.

12:15 High Point of Day . . .

When the 12:15 bell signaling the end of the fifth period rang, a mad rush began to what was then the focal point of interest for the students, the cafeteria. Food for the two groups—the 12:15 and the after-chorus—was ably prepared and served by Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson and Mrs. Euphemia Woock, assisted by a number of the students, and supervised by Mrs. Marion K. Morrison. Edward G. Hill, and David B. Easson, who was succeeded by John L. Hogan, were teachers in charge daily while the other faculty members alternated duties.

The Lock

Yearbook Portrays Link Between School and Community

Famous Lockport landmarks, scenes around town, and general tie-up between school and community were combined to make the Lock this year different than ever before. Using the theme, "Our School and Our Community," the staff has worked to produce an effect equally interesting to citizen and student.

After the selection of the theme early in the year and the subscription drive at school, the staff began to plan the annual. From then on the progress of the yearbook and the lives of the staff and sponsor were one.

During the year dances sponsored by the Lock Staff were enjoyed by high school students as well as alumni. Many students also patronized the Lock-sponsored "coke" machine. From these two sources, plus an allotment set aside by the Board of Education, our annual was principally financed.

The twenty-five members of the staff worked conscientiously with their sponsor, Mildred K. Shoop, and Editor Lorena Hosbach. Dorothy Kure, business manager, proved very efficient in helping handle the business affairs of the book. The literary staff, under the capable editorship of Beverley Hill, worked to produce articles which were typed by the copy staff of which Rita Fracaro was chairman. The social committee in charge of Marguerite Timm efficiently did its part by supervising the dances. The Pen Wipers, student photographers, and artists also contributed their talents. When our task for the year was finally completed, the circulation staff under the chairmanship of John Pretto presented our finished product to "our school and our community."

Service Is Our Goal . . .

Miss Lorina E. Goerz, sponsor

Our school reached 100 per cent membership in the Junior Red Cross Drive last September. The receipts, plus other donations by the students, made it possible for the Junior Red Cross to attain its goal—service—by supplying gift boxes, school chests, flexahexagons, and ash trays to orphanages, hospitals, and needy children in foreign lands. Programs were sold at all home games to augment its funds.

This year's council consisted of President Patricia Randich, Vice-president Robert Fabek, Secretary Phyllis Winkler, Treasurer Rinaldo Caneva, and County Treasurer John Pretto, plus home room representatives. Under the fine supervision of Miss Lorina E. Goerz, this year was a great success.

Times Waits for No One . . .

John L. Pence, sponsor

Midnight lights were seen burning in the homes of the Times Staff members throughout the community, as our ambitious, young journalists, realizing that "time and tide wait for no man," strived to meet their deadlines.

The sixteen members of the staff worked diligently with their co-editors, Beverley Hill and John Pretto, and their sponsor, John L. Pence, to produce the seven issues.

In addition to school events, the paper included columns of humor, gossip, and exchange. A new feature was the music column, which related the activities of the chorus and the preparations for the band's trip to Atlantic City.

As previously, the Times was sold for only five cents per copy due to financial aid from local businessmen.

Football Banquet

Pigskin Platter and Plate Party Progresses Well . . .

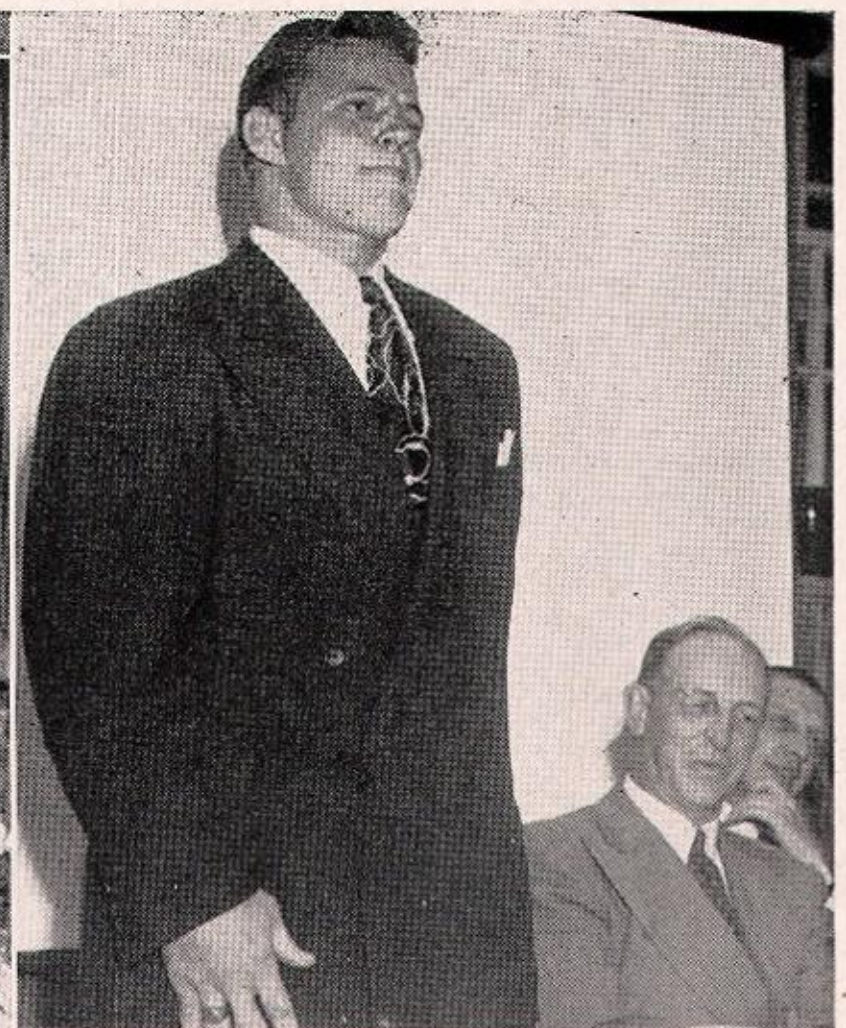

The field of endeavor for the annual "operation turkey" sponsored by the Quarterback (varsity football) and Wingback (fresh-soph football) Clubs was moved to the First Congregational Church, where the women served a meal which was manfully accepted and disposed of by the hungry gridders and guests.

Interest as well as appetite was at a high pitch as Toastmaster Lester L. Lindberg kept things moving. Moods of reflection and joviality were in evidence as those assembled lent thoughtful ears to the words of Dr. Harold E. Henke, representative of the fathers; Dean Edward Flink; and Board of Education President Marion M. DeSandre. Invocation was given by the Reverend M. J. Mugan and Benediction by the Reverend F. Rausch. Guest speaker was "Big Bill" Fischer of the Chicago Cardinals. Awards were presented by Edward G. Hill, varsity coach; and by Frank J. Rogers, fresh-soph mentor.

The committee chairmen were: menu, Robert Hiller; speaker, William Richards; decorations, James Butler; and program, Mr. Lindberg.

One of the remarks of Superintendent James M. Smith strikes a responsive chord as evidenced by the faces of Bill Fischer and Athletic Director Lester L. Lindberg. "Big Bill" Fischer delivers his address as Mr. Smith and Mr. Lindberg listen intently.

Visual Education

Films Provide Education As Well As Enjoyment . . .

Everything from algebra to zoology was made more easily understood and more enjoyable by the use of moving pictures.

Included in the various films, obtained chiefly from the University of Illinois and the Will County Film Library, was a realistic and practical pattern of survival under atomic attack.

The projection operators, recruited from electric shop, were trained by Orris S. Young.

Fads and Fun

New Fads Add Life and Color to Lock Dances . . .

To raise money for the yearbook and promote better relationships among the students, the Lock Staff sponsored many dances this year. These dances, which netted several hundred dollars, were very well attended and made more colorful by the fads which were popular during the school year. Besides the fads in clothing, the return of

After the Grand March led by Queen Maureen Caneva and King Dale Boden, punch was served under the supervision of Lorena Hosbach in the Trophy Room which was decorated like a garden in full bloom.

While the "Jite" and the "Arabesques" were confined mainly to the decorations, all the dancers and critics agreed that the premier staged under the direction of John Pretto, general chairman, was a great success.

Athletics

Athletics played an important role in the life of "our school and our community." All of our teams received the enthusiastic support of not only the student body, but also of the local citizenry. Indicative of the town's support of Lockport Township High School's teams were broadcasts of our tournament games sponsored by the Davis Sport Shop, the Federated Store, and the Ben Franklin Store. Also in cooperation with our school, the proprietor of our local bowling alley allowed the G. A. A. to bowl regularly at reduced rates.

Interscholastic competition in the form of football, basketball, baseball, and track played a very important role in our sports agenda, but just as important from the standpoint of teaching sportsmanship and cooperation were intramural basketball, interclass basketball, G. A. A. activities, and lifesaving.

The athletic activities of the year were not solely confined to the field and hardwood. Our teams enjoyed several complimentary banquets and steak dinners served them by citizens who were attempting to bring about an even closer relationship between "our school and our community."

Better Citizens for Our Community . . .

A very important part in the development of future citizens for our community was played by the G. A. A. Along with fun and muscles, each member gained the ideals of fair play and good sportsmanship.

To help instill these characteristics in our girls, a well-rounded activity program of basketball, basket shooting, volleyball, golf, swimming, tumbling, riding, and bowling was offered. As a test of their good sportsmanship, the girls entered into telegraphic bowling and basket shooting tournaments, individual contests, and interclass meets.

Seldom are the many and varied duties of the Athletic Board of Control fully understood. It is the members' responsibility to decide the athletic policies to be used in interschool contests, to select athletic equipment for student use, and to determine prices to be charged at games.

The members of this year's Board included: Athletic Director Lester L. Lindberg, Dean Edward Flink, Coaches Edward G. Hill and Frank J. Rogers—faculty and physical education representatives; Joseph Fitzgerald, athletics; Betty Carroll, G. A. A.; and William Richards, student body.

Injuries Retard Gridders' Progress . .

Hoping to bolster the Porter pigskin prowess, Coach Edward G. Hill was appointed to supervise the tutelage of the varsity gridders. He too met with the old nemesis, injury, as two lettermen, Alex Artisuk and James Butler, and one promising junior, Vincent McAsey were sidelined from the start. As if this weren't enough, he lost half-back Edward Purdy to the military service. Because of the many and varied injuries, Coach Hill was forced to experiment with unseasoned boys, and the team lacked only the offensive spark of experience to push over winning points.

The annual football banquet served at the First Congregational Church November 7 meant letters to the following boys: Charles Allison, David Blish, Dale Carlstrom, Kenneth Cromer, Joseph Fitzgerald, John Gannaway, Robert Hiller, Robert Hoffman, Leo Krause, Donald Krumlinde, Louis Larson, Frank Marco, Keith Michael, Fred Ravensbeck, William Richards, Robert Swindells, and Jack Thomas.

The team elected Joseph Fitzgerald and Leo Krause co-captains. Fitzgerald also received the honor of being elected the most valuable player.

FRESH-SOPH FOOTBALL GRIDMEN ESTABLISH NEW RECORD . . .

Coach Frank J. Rogers came up with a winning combination of youth, defensive skill, and teamwork to lead his Fresh-Soph Portermmites to an undefeated, untied season, the first in the history of our school.

Ably assisted by Coach Edward Flink, Rogers' youngsters compiled 131 points in seven games to their opponents' 25, with never more than one touchdown in any contest.

Coach Rogers' list of lettermen was long. Those receiving monograms were: Roger Allen, William Allison, Benny Bakanec, James Brown, John Burcen-

Raymond Mondrella and William Stone, two Portermite stalwarts, were chosen honorary captain and most valuable, respectively.

Pigskin Classics . . .

St. Charles 6—Lockport 12

In the season's opener, the Porters outlasted a strong St. Charles eleven to give Coach Edward G. Hill a warm welcome to Lockport Township High School. In strong offensive play, Edward Purdy scored on a line plunge, and minutes later Joseph Fitzgerald scored on a pass from Purdy.

Batavia 14—Lockport 2

Suffering from the loss of several backfield men, the Porters were held to a safety in the second period. Batavia came back strong in the second half to put across two quick scores around the end.

Bradley 25—Lockport 12

Fumbles and pass interceptions proved disastrous for the Oilers as an inspired Bradley team ran and passed to an upset win.

Joliet Catholic High 13—Lockport 7

On the first play from scrimmage, a pass from Adelman to Krause put the Maroons in scoring position. Seconds later, Robert Swindells scored on a lateral from Jack Thomas. Although the Maroons held a half-time lead, a third period surge by the Hillmen proved to be the winning margin.

Morris 6—Lockport 7

Our Porters got back into the victory column by edging a tough Morris aggregation. A touchdown pass from Fitzgerald to Hoffman and a line-plunge by Krause in the second quarter were what proved to be the winning points.

Argo 27—Lockport 0

Lockport's defense functioned brilliantly for three scoreless quarters against a highly-rated Argo squad. The Maroons weakened in the fourth, however, and the Argonauts piled up four quick touchdowns and three extra points for the win.

Stickney 25—Lockport 8

Playing its only afternoon game of the season, the hometowners were surprised by the spirit of an underrated Stickney squad. The Porters' only scores came in the second period when Frank Marco scored a safety and Robert Swindells scored on a pass from Joseph Fitzgerald.

Lemont 0—Lockport 0

Mud, snow, and rain hampered play as the elements held both teams scoreless for the entire game. Lockport threatened to score three times, but fumbles prevented them from taking advantage of their scoring opportunities.

Varsity Basketball

Team Brings Fame to Lockport High . . .

At a Student Council-sponsored pep session, Trainer Alex Artisuk makes the lions, Ralph Benck and William Richards, do their tricks.

Height, experience, teamwork, ability, and a will to win led the varsity basketball team coached by Frank J. Rogers to a splendid 22-4 season which meant much to the morale of "our school and our community."

Under Coach Rogers' guidance the squad took second place in the South Suburban Conference, one game behind Thornton of Harvey whom the Porters defeated on their home floor after a three-point defeat on the Harvey hardwood. Among other accomplishments was the winning of the Morris Invitational Tournament and a second place in the Regional Tournament.

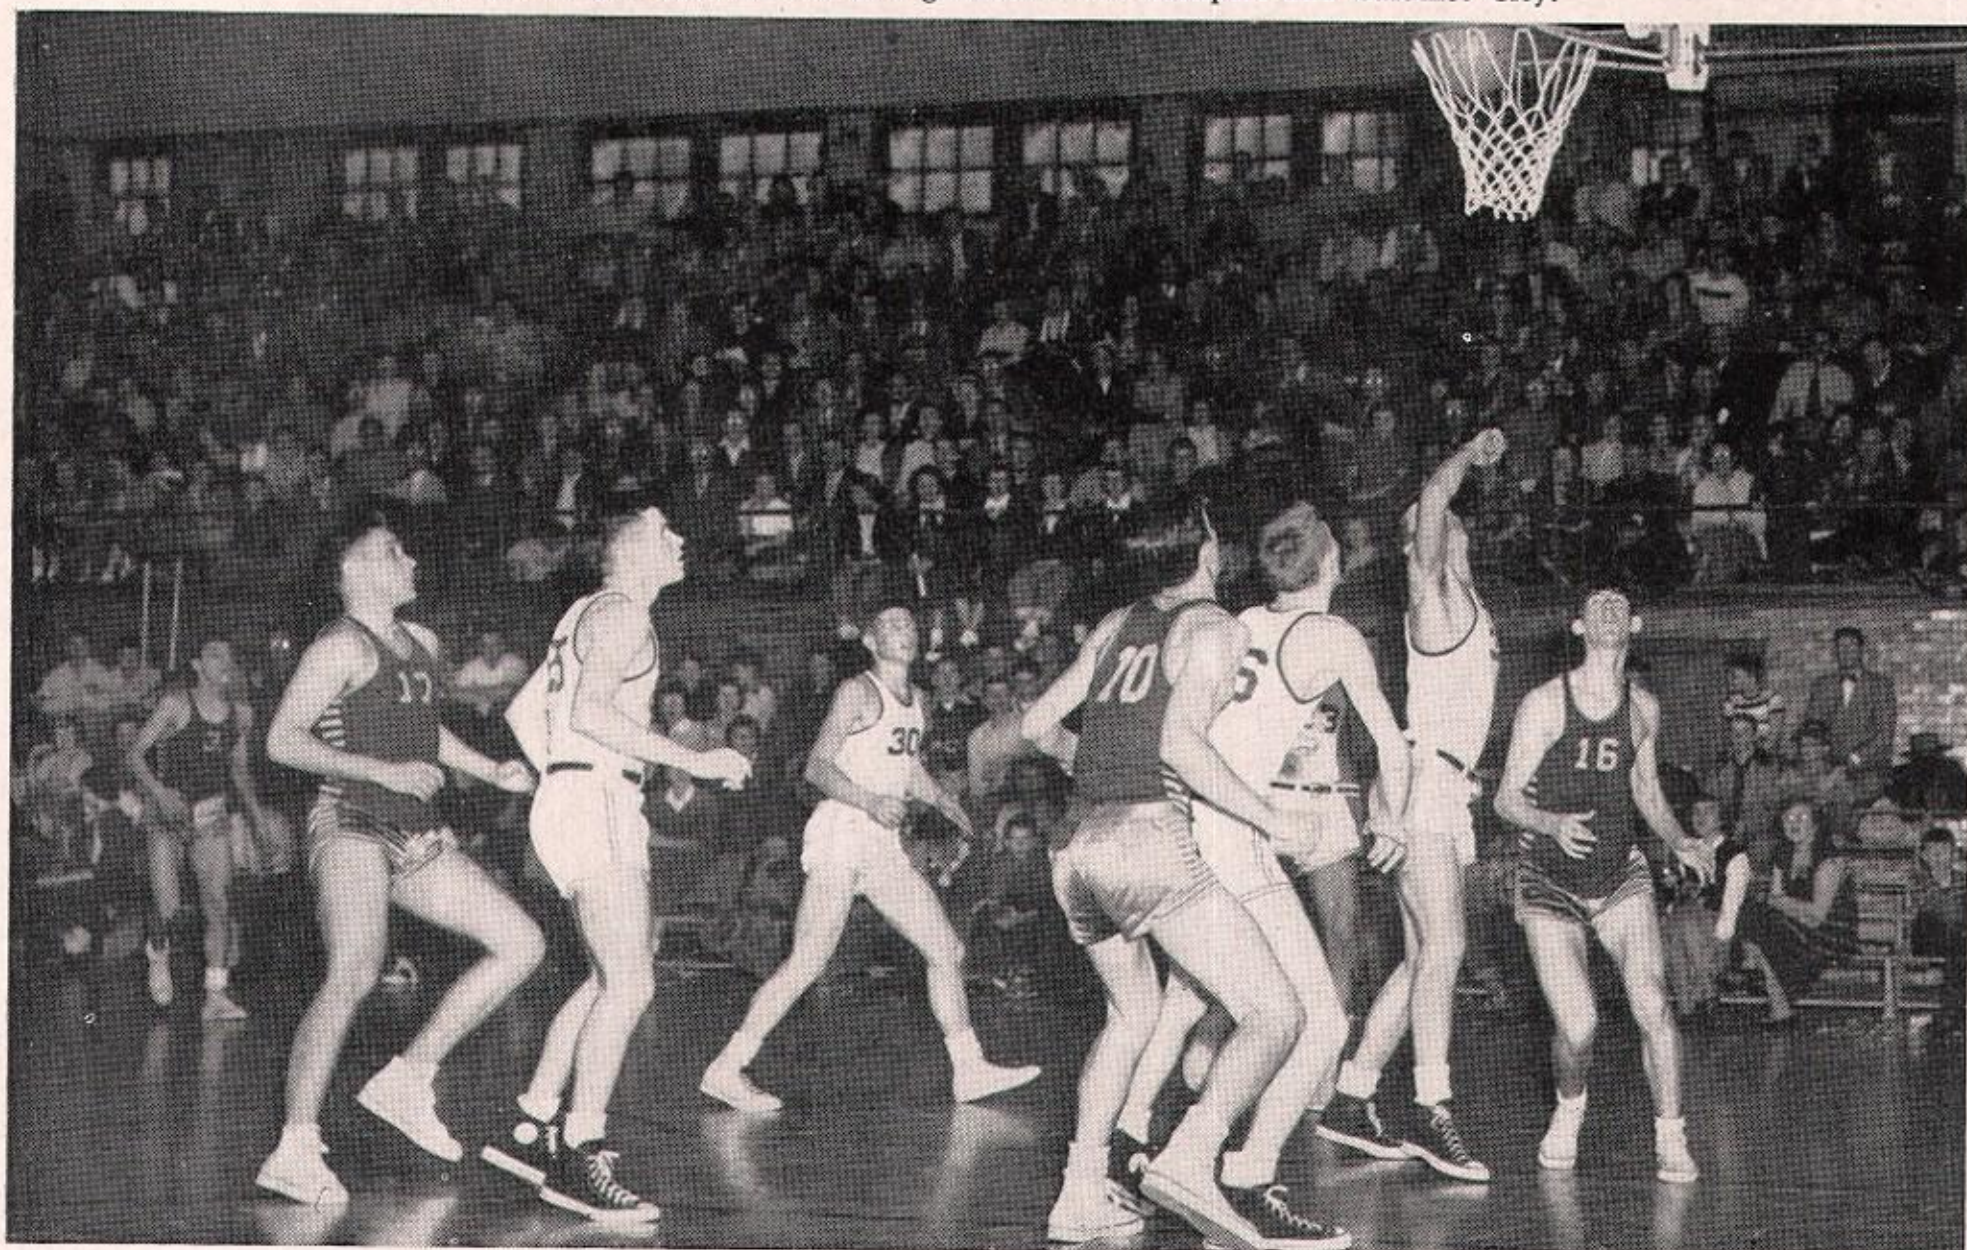

The most unusual game of the season was the contest with Catholic High when forty-two personals were charged to the Hilltoppers, and they finished the game with only four men on the floor.

Several times during the season various civic groups of our community entertained the team at banquets and on trips, thus proving their great interest in the team.

This year's lettermen included: Charles Anderson, Alex Artisuk, Raymond Fedo, Joseph Fitzgerald, Ely Grubisich, Charles Kasper, Harold McGahey, Robert Swindells, Leonard Tillman, and Jean Wilson. The team chose Harold McGahey most valuable player, and Alex Artisuk honorary captain.

Fresh-Soph Basketball

Team Lacks Height . . .

Coach Edward G. Hill took over the duties of fresh-soph basketball mentor and found a team that only lacked height. A fast, experienced squad well grounded in fundamentals, the team showed streaks of brilliance at times, but "tough" luck and bad breaks retarded its progress. Most of the eleven games lost of the twenty played were lost by only one or two points.

At the close of the season, letters were awarded to the following boys: Benny Bakanec, Richard Cronholm, William Eaton, Phillip Gould, Peter Grubisich, William Haller, Carl Johnson, Ronald Johnson, Raymond Mondrella, Ronald Murray, Robert Pluth, Edwin Sly, and James Starks.

James Starks was elected honorary captain, and Peter Grubisich was named most valuable.

Freshman Basketball

Experience Is the Best Teacher . . .

This year found basketball galore at Lockport Township High as the first freshman basketball team in the history of the school was formed by Coach Lester L. Lindberg. His prime purpose for developing a junior squad was to give the boys experience for next year's sophomore team.

In the course of the season the freshmen played only three games, but they had a presentable record of two victories and one loss. After having beaten Kankakee's East High School twice, 47-10 and 38-34, Joliet Catholic High came up with a winning combination to defeat the Lockport freshmen in a thriller, 56-54.

An ardent admirer of all Lockport High's athletic teams is William Lindberg, father of Athletic Director Lester L. Lindberg.

Track

Spikes Fly High . . .

This year a great amount of interest is being exhibited in track. Forty men reported early in April for workouts in the gymnasium under the watchful eye of Coach Edward G. Hill.

The varsity's hopes revolve around the ability of five upperclassmen of whom only one is a letterman. The fresh-soph squad, on the other hand, is loaded with latent ability, exhibiting their talents to advantage in several meets.

Since the schedule of meets has not been completed as we go to press, we are unable to give a report on the results.

Varsity Baseball

Swinging to Win . . .

Varsity baseball is in for a banner year this season with twenty games scheduled. The schedule includes twelve league tilts, three double-headers, and several night games on the home diamond. The team will do its utmost to conform to the high standards of previous years.

Coach Edward Flink expects great things from his squad which has experienced pitching, fielding, and hitting. He hopes to build around his six returning lettermen: Charles Anderson, slick fielding short-stop; Joseph Fitzgerald, hard-hitting third sacker; Alex Artisuk, dependable slugging catcher; and ace moundsmen, Harold McGahey, Richard Ramos, and Raymond Fedo.

Because this book goes to press before the completion of the scheduled season, we cannot show the results of the games.

Fresh-Soph Baseball

Molding Stars of the Future . . .

Coach Frank J. Rogers is once again molding freshmen and sophomore aspirant ball players for future varsity competition.

With only two returning lettermen, Roger Allen and William Haller, Coach Rogers had his work cut out for him when he began drills early in April to form a winning combination.

Pitching strength and inexperience have presented the biggest worry. With no returning hurlers and only a handful of experienced men, the Portermites are still seeking their first victory, as we go to press.

Intramurals

Outlet for Excess Energy . . .

Once again intramurals, an outlet for excess energy, found a host of eager teams forming for basketball competition. Games were held after school whenever regular basketball squads were absent.

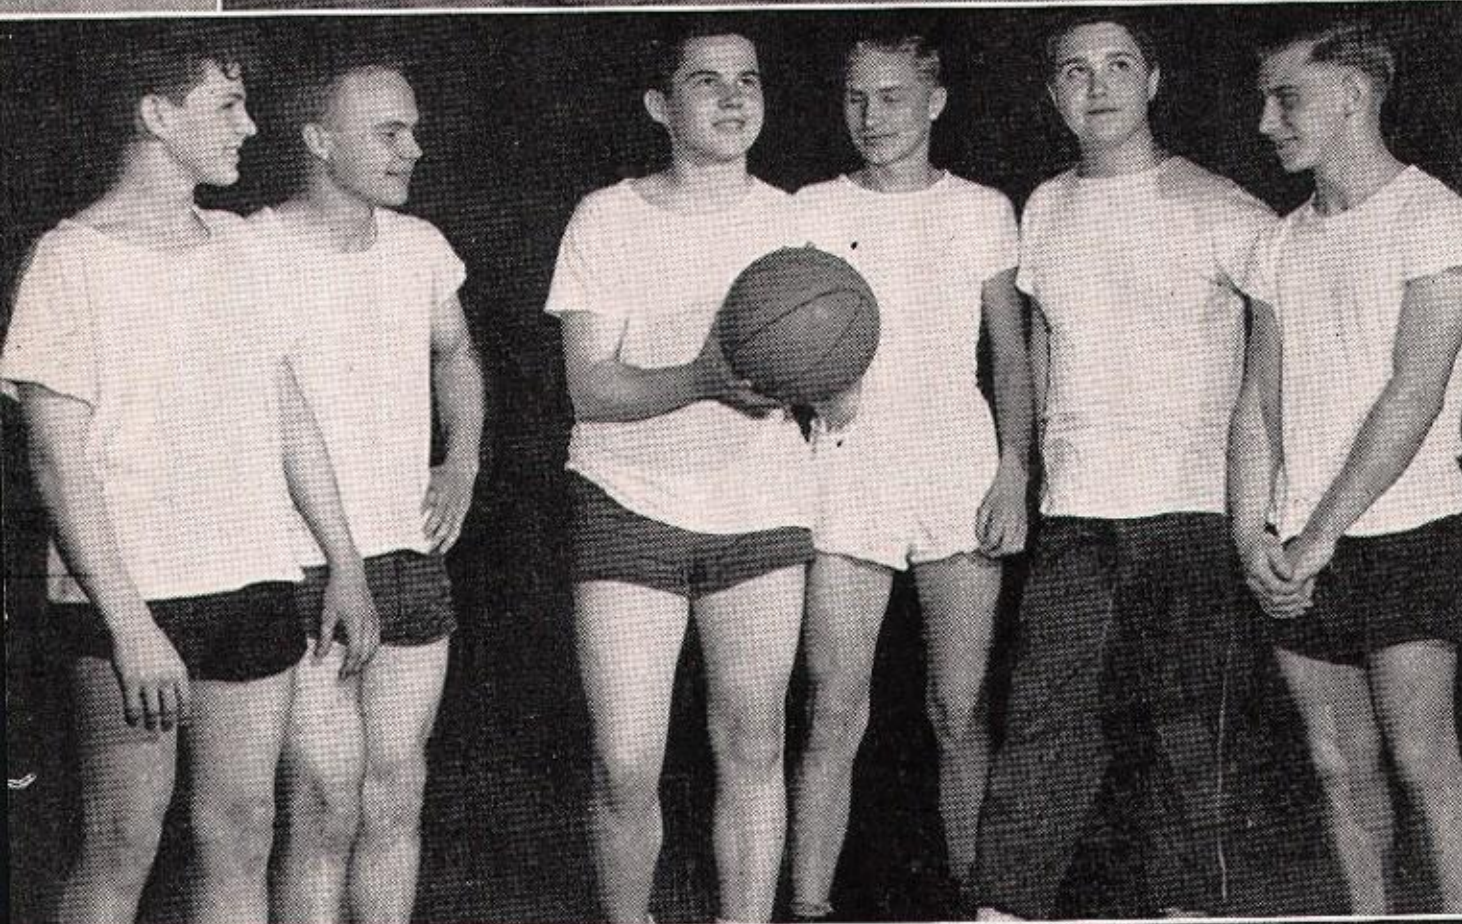

Varsity and fresh-soph divisions were organized, and at the end of the season the varsity title was won by the undefeated "Question Marks," the underclassman crown going to the "Basketeers."

After the regular season had come to a close, the annual interclass intramural tourney was held with coaches chosen from the varsity squad. Alex Artisuk led his junior aggregation to an upset win over the seniors coached by Ely Grubisich. Harold McGabey coached the sophomores, and Charles Anderson the freshmen.

Lifesaving

Activity Spells Safety in Our Community . . .

With mainly the thought of safety in mind, a group of dexterous boys and girls under the direction of Dean Edward Flink went "through the paces" in an attempt to learn the techniques of lifesaving.

Not only was lifesaving fun for everyone, but the "tankers" learned grips, holds, swimming strokes, disrobing in water, and the all important common sense that any qualified lifesaver should be able to use in case an emergency arises in aquatic conditions.

Upon the achievement of the rigid course, awards were presented to those who earned them.

Marjorie Mathers rescues Beryl Strong with the "cross-chest carry." George Larsen practices the "chin carry" on Donald Swanson.

The Beginning of the End

Our School Grows to Keep Pace with Our Growing Community .

Faced with the problem of an increasing enrollment and limited high school facilities, Lockport Township held an election last spring and approved a bond issue to finance an addition to our school. The digging of the foundation of this, the center court structure which is part of the third addition to the initial building, is the beginning of the end.

When this structure and the new wing are completed, expansion will be arrested in that our school will cover the entire block.

The fact that a bond issue was approved by the voters signifies the wonderful spirit of cooperation between "our school and our community."

Students watch excavator prepare the site for the foundation of the center court building. The new structure will include the heating plant, a storeroom, the study hall, and the library.
